AWARD

The authority identified by the State Government under the I. D Act, while having sufficient compliance with the provision of Act has made a reference to this Tribunal vide SRO No. 264 of 2009 dated 28th August, 2009 for adjudication and passing an appropriate order. The reference made by the Government broadly and pointedly after having proper consideration by the Reconciliation Officer. Government is of the opinion that an industrial dispute exists between Shri Manu Jee Saproo S/o Shri P. N. Saproo R/o Janipur and Management of FIL Industries, Bari Brahmana, Jammu. So, in exercise of power conferred by clause (C) of sub-section (1) of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act 1947, the Government referred this dispute for adjudication on the following issues :—

1. Whether the termination of the services of Sh. Manu Jee Saproo is legally justified ?
2. If not, to what relief he is entitled to, on receipt of the reference, notices were issued to the parties who appeared and filed their respective claims/objections ?

As per statement of claim of the petitioner namely Manu Jee Saproo, he was the employee of the respondent FIL Industries, Bari Brahmana Jammu, he was working as Production Supervisor since long and the Respondent ousted the petitioner without any reason or without giving any advance information or serving any advance notice to the petitioner of his unilateral decision and as such the claim assessed on the basis of the salary together with interest thereon to which petitioner is due to receive. The petitioner has claimed to Rs. 286483/- from the respondent.

Thereafter, file was posted for filing of the objections, whereupon respondent filed their objections averting therein—

It is submitted by the respondent that petitioner was disengaged by the company because of his repeated negligence, carelessness, and misbehavior. Though, the petitioner was repeatedly warned, and, even once misconduct stand proved for which petitioner apologized also. The petitioner went on repeating grave mistakes, which could hardly be tolerated by a pesticides manufacturing company, and, this ultimately, compelled the management to disengaged the petitioner from the services.

It is submitted by the respondent that petitioner joined on 20-08-1998, and, within, two months of his joining, the petitioner resigned from the job on 22-10-1998.

Thereafter, the petitioner again approached the management, and, sought fresh appointment on humanitarian grounds. It is submitted that, the petitioner was allowed to join by taking humanitarian view in the matter.

Though from November, 1998 to April, 2004, the work performance of the petitioner was not up to mark, yet, the petitioner as allowed to continue the job. For a grave mistake committed on 18-03-2004, besides imposing a fine upon him, a warning was administered on him on 03-04-2004 to remain careful in future.

It is submitted that even this had no impact on the petitioner, and, within three days, another warning was served on him on 07-04-2004.

The conduct and bad performance of the petitioner became almost intolerable. However, again taking humanitarian view in the matter, no action was taken against him. The petitioner tendered a written apology on 12-04-2004, and, represented to the management that he would be careful in future, and, the petitioner would be personally responsible for any mistake in future and would face any disciplinary action.

It is submitted by the respondent that again, a grave mistake of double labeling was found, and on asking of his explanation, the petitioner accepted the fault on 20-06-2005, and, regretted for the same.

It is on 21-06-2005, at the beginning of the office hours, an enquiry by the General Manager regarding this episode of double labeling, the petitioner misbehaved with the General Manager, and, even rebuked him in his office chamber. The matter was immediately brought to the notice of the management, who after thoroughly reviewing his attitude from the beginning i. e. from the date of his joining the company, decided that in view of his arrogance and misbehavior inspite of all misdeeds, his continuation in the company would be detrimental to the interest of the company as there was apprehension that the attitude of the petitioner would spread in other employees also, and, accordingly, the petitioner was discharged by allowing one month salary against “advance notice period.”

Finally on 22-06-2005, the petitioner, immediately requested for release of his dues, and, accepted the order. On 07-07-2005, the petitioner even applied for release of his gratuity on the prescribed form. One month notice pay, gratuity and bonus amounting to Rs. 14791/- were immediately paid to the petitioner on 09-07-2005. Thereafter, the petitioner also applied for refund of his provident fund, the said claim was forwarded to the Dy. Commissioner, Provident Fund on 26-08-2005.

The respondent finally prayed that the petition filed by the petitioner may kindly be dismissed by rejecting all the claims of the petitioner.

Heard argument and gone through the file.

The petitioner has filed his own affidavit besides Chaman Lal. The petitioner has not lead any additional evidence despite availing numerous opportunities. Chaman Lal has simply stated that he knows the petitioner since ten years being an employer of the management. He has failed to prove the claim of the petitioner.

The perusal of the file reveals that the petitioner has received the gratuity, bonus and notice pay on 09-07-2005. The total amount of Rs.14791/- has been received by the petitioner as gratuity, bonus and notice pay. Besides this the provident fund has also been withdrawn by the petitioner from the office of Deputy Commissioner, J&K State Employees State Provident Fund, Jammu on 26-08-2005.

The plea of the management is that the petitioner was discharged from services being negligent, irresponsible and careless towards his duties. The petitioner was discharged and paid one month's notice pay, gratuity and bonus amounting to Rs. 14791/- on 09-07-2005.

The conduct of the petitioner was not cordial and being negligent in performance of his duties which compelled the management to discharge the petitioner after making all the eligible dues and the petitioner has received the same without any protest.

Before proceeding, ahead, it is necessary to reproduce the relevant provision of section 25F of Industrial Dispute Act, which is as under :—

“25F. Condition precedent to retrenchment of workman.—

No workman employed in any industry who has been in continuous service for not less than one year under an employer by that employer shall be retrenched by that employer until.

- (a) the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired, or the workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of the notice.
- (b) The workman has been paid, at the time of retrenchment, compensation which shall be equivalent to fifteen days average pay (for every completed year of continuous service) or any part thereof in excess of six months ; and

(c) From bare perusal of section 25F, it is found that the workman who has completed 240 days in the year preceding his termination cannot be retrenched without giving one month notice and notice pay etc.”

The question arises whether a person who has received a notice pay towards his discharge from services can claim any benefit by filing such type of litigation. The petitioner has failed to prove that the management was not justified in discharging the petitioner from service. There is sufficient material to justify the act of the management.

In the present matter, admittedly, notice pay etc. has been given therefore, the termination of the workman by the respondent is justified. Once it is held that the termination was legal and justified, the workman is not entitled to the relief claimed for.

In brief it is held that the termination of the services of the petitioner was justified and no illegality has been committed by the management. The management has paid one month's, notice pay to the petitioner, who has received the same without any protest. As such it is held that the termination of the petitioner was justified and he is not entitled to any relief as prayed for.

Reference is answered accordingly. Copy of award be sent to the appropriate Government of J&K through its Commissioner/Secretary, Labour Department for information and its publication in the Government Gazette. File shall consign to records after its due completion.
